What is a Video Editor?

We cut, arrange and connect film footage to put forward a beautiful, seamless finished product. We're passionate about software and learning new things, and always keeps up to date on video and tech trends. We enjoy having quiet time to focus and get our work done.

This is what they do most days

I collaborate...

Working with the director and the producer, we agree on what the finished product will look like.

I edit...

I cut and connect film footage to tell a story in the right order and with the right pacing and timing.

I refine...

I add music, transitions and sound effects so that the finished product is ready to show the public.

In their own words:

“ What I love most about editing is the social aspect and the speed of processing jobs. Every day my job is a new job.

The key to my success is being able to juggle many jobs in various stages of planning, execution and completion.” - Emily B.
